

A demand for our expertise

The history has proved that there is a demand for the services as provided by Youth@HEART. Since 1995, several volunteers from the community were trained to render a free service to the youth in crisis at crisis centres. Several seminars were also arranged to inform the community on relevant youth matters such as teenage pregnancy, substance abuse, etc.

Several tertiary institutions have included the Youth@HEART courses in Youth Ministry and development into their curricula since 1999. The widespread demand for Youth@HEART's training has steadily increased over the years.
